HIS PAL CAUGHT

Pete Richards Will Soon Have Company in the County Jail.

ANDERSON CAUGHT TODAY

He Is the One Who Jumped Over the Fence With Mr. H. C. Allison's Diamond During the Carnival.

CROOKS CAUGHT IN MEMPHIS TODAY

Charles Anderson, an accomplice of Pete Richards, the man arrested here last week on a charge of stealing Mr. H. C. Allison's diamond at the carnival, and who is now in jail in default of a $1,000 bond, was arrested this morning in Evansville and Marshal Collins was notified by long distance telephone. The latter will at once take the necessary steps to have Anderson brought back here for trial and if he refuses to come without requisition will secure one immediately.

Anderson is one of the only ones of the many names "Richards" pal goes by. He is the man, according to Marshal Collins, to whom the diamond was shifted when Richards pinched it from Mr. Allison's tie. Anderson it was who ran and jumped a fence with it, and Richards, when searched, did not have it. Several saw him near at the time, and saw him jump the fence, and it is thought that no difficulty will be encountered in establishing his guilt.

There is still another one in the gang, the young man who returned the diamond to Special Officer Roy McKinney, who was at the New Richmond house with Richards. They had been waiting for over an hour when the youth arrived with the stolen stone in an envelope, and left at once.

The police have a good description of him, and think they will get him in a few days. He is about 18 years old.

Marshal Collins this morning received a message over the long distance telephone from Chief Richards, of Memphis, saying that he has under arrest there five of the crooks arrested here last week on suspicion and released after giving them orders to leave town. There was no stolen property found on them, but they will be kept in jail until after the Confederate reunion. It seems that most of the crooks who were run out of Paducah went to Memphis. All the chiefs of police in other places have been notified to search suspicious characters for property stolen here.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

Needham Whitfield and Isador Herzing, both colored, were arrested by Officer Gray this afternoon, as suspects. The officer found a $5 bill on the man and when questioned about it claimed that the woman had given it to him. The woman claims the money was given her by Allie Morton, who broke into Fred Yopp's place of business this morning and stole $11. The two arrested this afternoon are suspected of having aided in the house-breaking and were held over for an investigation tomorrow.

BUSTER SLAYDEN.

NOTORIOUS MAYFIELD NEGRO
ARRESTED NEAR WATER VALLEY.

Buster Slayden, a notorious negro character of Mayfield and vicinity, has at last been arrested for an offense that will probably send him over the road. He has been in more trouble in the past few years than perhaps any other criminal character in this end of the state. He has been in many fights where pistols were used and has been shot through and through twice while resisting arrest. When tried he always managed to get out of the case without a sentence, and in one case, when he was being tried for resisting an officer, it is said that he scared all the witnesses away.

He robbed a boy last Saturday near Water Valley school house, near Fulton, and the citizens of Mayfield turned out in a body and captured the man. They brought him in tied securely with ropes and landed him in the Mayfield jail where he will stay until tried.

ONLY A FAKE.

NO MAN HYPNOTIZED OVER
THE LONG DISTANCE
TELEPHONE.

The story going the rounds of the press about a man in Paducah named Edward Williamson having been hypnotized over the long distance telephone by Dr. Laura Belle Coleman, a woman in Chicago, is a fake pure and simple. Something of the kind was attempted here about three weeks ago, but none of the doctors could be induced to take any stock in it and it was with difficulty that one doctor could be persuaded to go to the place where the "hypnotism" was to take place. He says the whole proceeding was a fake. The Dr. Cook mentioned is the doctor's office boy and the Dr. Young a young man studying medicine under Dr. Frank Boyd. [No hat pin was stuck through the subject's arm, but through his coat sleeve.]

MISSING HOGS.

COLORADO WOMAN CLAIMS THAT A NEIGHBOR HAS FOUR BELONGING TO HER.

Zilpa Sims, a colored woman residing in "Canaan," beyond Mechanicsburg, complained to Judge Sanders this morning that a white man named Brame had four of her hogs and claimed them as his own, having marked them with his own mark. She wanted a warrant but was advised that perhaps the proper way to recover them if they belong to her would be by civil action.

"Dat's what I dan tried to be—civil all de week," she said with evident displeasure as she left. She promised to return tomorrow and consult County Attorney Graves. According to her own statement there is simply a dispute as to the ownership of the porkers, and no felony charge would likely be sustained.

CIRCUIT COURT.

MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL IN
JEFF YOUNG'S CASE
OVERRULED.

A motion for a new trial in the Jeff Young vs. Illinois Central Railroad company, $2,000 damages suit case, was made in the circuit court this morning, and overruled. The plaintiff prayed an appeal, which was granted.

The case was tried in the court several weeks ago and the plaintiff awarded no damages.

The appeal case from Judge Tully's court of G. B. Underwood against Public Administrator F. G. Rudolph to secure the appointment as administrator of the estate of the late Fireman Pink Underwood, who was killed in a railroad wreck, was dismissed by Judge Husbands, leaving the estate in charge of Mr. Rudolph.

The case on trial this afternoon in the circuit court, at present time was the divorce suit of Rebecca Rudolph against W. K. Rudolph.

FOR HOUSEBREAKING.

ALLIE MORTON GETS BACK IN THE LOCKUP IN A HURRY.

Allie Morton, colored, who was released only yesterday from the police court, was rearrested by Officer J. R. Gray this morning on a charge of breaking into the small lunch stand of a man named Yopp on Court street near Ninth and stealing ten dollars. He filed complaint this morning and the case will be tried tomorrow in the police court.

SELF DEFENSE

Mr. John L. Jones, the Furniture Dealer, Exonerated.

HAD TO SHOOT KEANE

The Dead Man Had Attempted to Draw His Pistol But the Hammer Caught In His Pocket.

KEANE HAD ASSAULTED HIS OWN WIFE

The account of the killing at Evansville yesterday morning of Thomas Keane, a plumber, by John L. Jones, the furniture dealer whose local establishment is at Third and Court, shows that Mr. Jones acted in self-defense, and is now doubtless enjoying his liberty again.

Mrs. Virginia Keane, the dead man's wife, is a bookkeeper at Jones', and she and her husband separated a year ago, and he went to Terre Haute and Washington, Ind., to work. She claims that he squandered his money and her's, and in addition to mistreating her, failed to support her.

Sunday he returned to Evansville for the first time in a year, and went to see his wife, trying to get her to pay off a five hundred dollar mortgage on some property, and also to live with him, which she declined to do.

He met Mr. Jones on the street and attempted to pick a quarrel with him, drawing a pistol and threatening to use it, but Mr. Jones declined to have anything to do with him and left. He afterwards heard threats made by Keane, and at the advice of friends armed himself.

Yesterday morning Keane went to Jones' store and walking to the desk at which his wife was working, accused her of being unfaithful to him, and struck at her. She warned off the blow and Mr. Jones told him that no trouble would be permitted in his store and that if he wanted to create any disturbance he would have to go outside.

Keane declared that he would not go outside, and when Mr. Jones threatened to put him out, attempted to draw his pistol.

The hammer caught in his pocket and Mr. Jones proved the quicker and shot him twice in the breast, one bullet passing through his heart. He fell and expired in a few moments. Mrs. Keane witnessed the shooting and bore the ordeal well. A young man who happened to be present also saw the shooting and all bear Mr. Jones out in his claim that the killing was in self-defense.

Immediately after the tragedy he telephoned the police that he was ready to give himself up, and was taken into custody to await the action of the coroner's jury.

Keane's parents live in Cairo and his father is said to be worth about $75,000, but his son's conduct became such that he would no longer render him any financial assistance to help him in his downward career.

An investigation of the dead man's finances showed that he had thirty-five dollars in cash and a credit of $200 in the Washington, Ind., bank.

Mr. Jones, who left Paducah Saturday for Evansville, is well known here, and was always considered a quiet, peaceable man. He is small, dark complexioned and partially bald, and apparently about 40 years of age. He has had a branch store here, and at Mayfield for several years past.

NO STRIKE.

LOCAL MACHINE SHOPS NOT AFFECTED BY THE BIG STRIKE.

The proprietors of the local machine shops and foundries have had no trouble with their employees and are expecting none.

The local shops, excepting the railroad, have employed very few union men and a reporter was told that the city was not organized in this trade and that many unsuccessful attempts had been made to secure the complete organization.

"I do not think that the local machine shops and foundries will have any trouble whatever," he remarked, "as the city is unorganized and not prepared to meet a strike."

The Jackson foundry and machine shops have only about three union men employed and the others have less.

"What I want them to do," Mr. Jackson jokingly informed a Sun man, "is to strike on this work we have on hand and get it out of the shop."

Shelton & Hasman were petitioned yesterday, but say they intend to ignore the petition altogether as they consider it folly to make such demands.

The Johnson shop is not expecting any trouble and thinks the matter will soon blow over and everything settled.

FORMER PADUCAHAN

MR. CHARLES J. MORTON DIES
AT IRONTON, OHIO.

He Lived in Paducah For Many Years—
Recently Retired From Business.

Mr. Charles J. Morton, formerly a citizen of Paducah, and in business at Fourth and Broadway, died yesterday at his home at Ironton, Ohio, from heart trouble, after an illness of several months. The news of his death was received by relatives in the city last night.

Mr. Morton was at one time one of Paducah's best known and most popular merchants, but some years ago sold out his business to L. E. Ogilvie & Co., and went to South Pittsburg and to Nashville, where he was in the furniture and carpet business. He lived subsequently at Auburn, Ky., where he last summer retired from business and later went to his wife's former home to reside. His health had been failing for some time and death was not unexpected.

The deceased was 61 years old and was born in Logan county, Ky. For many years he was a citizen of Paducah, having come here when a boy, and serving in the Confederate regiment from here. He was as a gentleman of wide popularity and deep integrity, and the news of his death will be received here with general regret among those who knew him.

He leaves a wife and two children. The funeral will take place at Ironton.

FOR ROBBERY

Man and His Wife Charged With Robbing Thomas Farless.

THE CASE CONTINUED

Farless Tells a Rather Gauzy Story—Few Cases in the Police Court This Morning.

BREACHES OF THE PEACE DISMISSED

Will Baker, a stone cutter, his wife Annie, and Pearl Bass, a 16-year-old girl, were arrested last night by Captain Bailey and Officers Rasor and Dugan, on a charge of robbery. They are alleged to have robbed Thomas Farless, of Graves county, who often comes to the city and enjoys a spree of greater or less dimensions, of $34 last Friday night.

The family reside on North Tenth street, and Farless claims he went there Friday and was in the room when someone knocked on the door, and a man claiming to be the woman's husband entered and drew a razor on him, demanding his money. Farless had the $34 in his sock, but he declined to produce until the woman, who seems to have hatched the scheme for the robbery, threatened him with a pistol.

He then gave up the money, and it was sometime before the police could get any definite clue to the perpetrators of the alleged robbery. The girl seems to have been implicated in it, and if Farless' story is true, the home of the Bakers was a veritable den where unfortunates like Farless were systematically lured for the purpose of robbery.

The cases were called this morning in Judge Sanders' court and Attorney Gilbert appointed to defend. The trial is set for Thursday.

The case against Kenny Murray and Charles Grear, charged with breach of the peace, was dismissed. The evidence showed that the young men were forced into a fight last Thursday night with three barbers who were fined $5 and costs in the police court yesterday morning, and the barbers got the worst of the encounter, six black eyes resulting in about as many minutes.

WORK ABOUT COMPLETE.

THE AUDITING COMMITTEE AT WORK ON THE BILLS.

The work of clearing the carnival grounds is about over, and most of the lumber has been hauled away. The committee headquarters is again on North Third street in Secretary Atkins' place of business, and the auditing committee is at work on the accounts, which will all be disposed of by Thursday.

Quite a number of papers have been turned over to the committee. Among the old ends that were picked up on the streets of India is a pocket book with papers indicating that it belongs to C. M. Rudolph. There was no money in it.

Among some other papers is a check drawn in favor of W. W. Stewart on a Marion, Ky., bank for $480, dated January 24.

TOO LATE.

A BOARDING HOUSE KEEPER
REPORTS A GANG OF PICKPOCKETS.

A whole house full of pickpockets have just been reported, but too late for any steps to be taken towards capturing the thieves. The landlady at a Third street boarding house rented a room to four young men, last Monday, for the week. They would go out in the morning and would not return until early the next morning and the whole time they were in her house she said they had never gotten in earlier than 2 o'clock in the morning. The room they occupied was kept locked by them in the day and she became suspicious and investigated after she had found that when they returned in the morning they would count and divide money among themselves. While they were out Friday she gained access to their room and went on a tour of investigation finding nothing suspicious until she attempted to open the dresser drawers. They were locked but she got a key and unlocked the top drawer and found over a dozen pocketbooks both old and new.

She then knew the men were pickpockets but would not report the matter to the police until they had left the city, as she said she was afraid she would be murdered for telling.

The roomers wanted their time extended until yesterday, but she would not let them stay, and immediately after their departure she reported the matter, but too late to catch the guilty parties.

THE WEATHER.

TEMPERATURE NOT UNUSUALLY LOW FOR THE SEASON.

The temperature went to 55 last night, which was one degree cooler than yesterday morning. This, however, is nothing unusual for the season, according to Observer Bornemann's records, which show that there is always a cool season in the middle of May. It was the same last year and the year before, and doubtless for many years previous as well.

The forecast is for rain tonight, fair Wednesday.
